Plenary II: Federal Engagement – Putting Policy into Practice

Thursday, February 6, 2020

10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Child support is a high performing, bipartisan program that supports 14.7 million children and their families. While the program is constantly evolving to meet the changing needs and demographics of the families it serves, there is always room for improvement in policy and practice to meet those changes. In this session, you will hear from key congressional committee staff in a conversation about potential child support policy changes to further improve the program, including collection policies to respond to the 'gig' economy, providing tribes with direct access to federal tax offsets, support for technology improvements, and more.
